MUSLIN, a fine sort of cotton cloth, which bears a downy knap on its surface. There are several sorts of mullins brought from the East Indies, and more particularly from Bengal; such as doreas, betelies, mus-musls, tanjeebs, &c.