Forget - Me - Not Yoke, of Novelty Braid and Crochet

By ANGELINE L. TOWNSEND

COCKET-THREAD No. 40 was used for the model, with:

a strip of 12 medallions of medium-size novelty thread:

for the front; 11 medallions for the back; and 12 medallions for each shoulder.

Fasten ends of strips neatly directly, join them neatly, the front and back fastening to the yoke at the ends of the shoulder-wraps. The end of each medallion of front and back fits up against the side of the shoulder-strap medallion. If carefully sewed on the wrong side the yoke is made in 8th stitche; 6 more spaces, turn.

1. Two spaces;

2. Seven spaces, turn.

3. Three spaces, 4 trebles, 3 spaces, turn.

4. Two spaces, 10 trebles, 2 spaces, turn.

5. 6. 8. Like 4th row.

7. 11. Like 4th row.

9. 12. Turn the work, going across the end and up one side, making 5 trebles in the last space, double in next 5 times, 10 trebles in corner space, double in next, and continue along the side. Sew this piece carefully in place; in the center of the side work, on a hooker for a button-hole, with three green leaves in the same stich as each side.

The yoke may be made by carrying the front and back entirely across, and joining the strips to the top; as made, however, it fits nicely and is very easily put together.

done by leaving off a space at end of each forward row, and slipping back over the last space at beginning of each return row; the 2nd row would then end with 4 spaces, and the 3rd row would narrow a space by slipping across the last space made in the previous row, 3 places, and continue. When finished, the edge would be straightened by chaining of 3 stitches, fastened in center of space of each row.

I FIND the following the simplest and simplest method of buttonholed 1 button, the buttonhole may be made on the top side. If the buttonhole is an inch or more, follow the instructions, starting 1/4 inch from the edge, and run the outline of scallops with fine directly on the design, the buttonhole is done more neatly and nearly, I usually whip the edge, thinking this makes the work
