Review: A slim paperback put out by the Federation of Lace and Embroidery Employers’ Associations, Nottingham, England, as an introduction to lace, both traditional and machine made. The illustrations tell us that it was composed in the 1960s and contains nice photographs of lace and the machines that made it.

by Tess Parrish