OLD-FASHIONED DARNED-NET OUTFIT.

The illustrations on this page picture an old-fashioned sampler for darned-net stitches, the frame for working and an infant’s cap completed. As near as can be calculated all of these were worked about the year 1776. The little frame is hand made and the wrappings of linen are also made by hand and sewed around the wood; to this the net was stitched before darning. The peculiar shape of the cap will be noted; the long horse-shoe shape of the back and the draw-string at the lower edge.

BUTTERICK BUILDING
SPRING, VANDAM AND MACDOUGAL STREETS, NEW YORK

This building is the largest and most perfectly equipped manufacturing and publishing plant in the whole world. It was built to lessen the cost of manufacturing, and every known improvement in modern processes of manufacture is in it. From this building each month is issued now the foremost of the world's magazines for women. It was originally published as a magazine illustrating fashions in garments, their development being made possible and easy with the aid of the Butterick patterns. The foundation of the magazine was built on utility—the help it could be to woman in her world of dress. It was a success even from the start in 1872, but it soon became evident that The Delineator was destined to grow in importance, for the mission of the magazine expanded, and instead of illustrating merely styles in garments, it became the accepted purveyor of the world's news of fashions. At the same time it placed each reader in a position to make or have made for herself, by means of the paper pattern, a gown which, while expressing correctly the newest mode, may be adapted to her own individual modifications.

The Delineator has earned the title—"the most necessary of all magazines for women." Each issue presents so many subjects, articles and stories that by reading it every member of the family can either be entertained or helped.

The Delineator is sold for 15c a copy; $1.00 a year. Buy it from your Butterick agent, or newsdealer, or subscribe for it direct from
