Cloth-varnish-ing Machine. For making the enameled or varnished fabric.

The cloth is passed from the let-off roller beneath a roller in the steam-heated size-vat \( E \); thence to a steam-heated table \( C \); where the varnish is spread by a revolving brush \( D \), and thence over the rollers of the drying-frame, where it is exposed to jets of air from a perforated pipe, and from which it is wound on a take-up roller.