Shuttle, n. [A.S. scytel, scytla, a bar, bolt, from sceadan, to shoot, dart, etc.] (Woven.) An instrument used for passing or shooting the thread of the weof in weaving from one side of the cloth to the other, between the threads of the warp.