

Title: A Sixteenth Century Industry

by

Bucks Cottage Workers Agency, Olney, Buckinghamshire, England

Review: This small book is a compilation of pictures and articles put out by the Bucks Cottage Workers Agency in Olney, England, ("the centre of the Bucks Point industry") and describes the laces being made there in the mid-1920s and the organization trying to better the lot of the local lacemakers. It is a nicely written sort of sales book, with quotations from notable authors on the subject of lace and pictures of and prices for the products of the association.

by Tess Parrish