CAREERS FOR WOMEN
Compiled and Edited by
Catherine Fillene
Director of the Intercollegiate Vocational Guidance Association

A complete and authoritative guide to one hundred and sixty occupations open to women. Each subject is described by an expert in that particular field, who tells frankly and concisely the advantages and disadvantages of the occupation, the salary that may be expected, the opportunities for advancement, the necessary qualifications, and the best preparation.

To every girl who has felt that her choice of career is limited to nursing, teaching and stenography, these articles will come as a revelation, enabling her to choose from among these one hundred and sixty possible vocations just the career that will bring her success and happiness.

An idea of the range and authority of the articles is given in the following partial list of the occupations described.

THE OPERA SINGER
By Geraldine Farrar, Metropolitan Opera Company, Boston.

THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT
By Lora M. Fondren, C. P. A., American Institute of Accountants, Member of Firm of L. E. Fondren & Co., of Boston.

WOMEN IN ADVERTISING AGENCY WORK
By Laurie T. Mordern, George Batten Company.

THE BEEKEEPERS
By Letitia E. Wright, Jr., The Bee Club, School of Entomology for Women, Amherst, Massachusetts.

THE DAIRY WORKER
By Harry P. Hoilker, Carrer Hill Farm, Mass.

THE BODY DESIGNER
By Claude Phillips, Aiken, S. C.

THE LANDSCAPE GARDENER
By John Ellicott, Garden Club, New York City.

THE POULTRY-KEEPER
By Marion Pooley.

THE ARCHITECT
By Milt L. Howe.

CLOTHES DESIGNER
By Gertrude McIver, Designer, Joseph Morris & Co., New York City.

THE GARDEN PHOTOGRAPHER
By Ruth Price, Rancho Tarzana, California.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER
By Frank C. Edgerton, Berks.

THE STAGE DESIGNER
By M. I. Berman, Hollywood, Calif.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR WOMEN IN A BOOK-PUBLISHING HOUSE
By Miss Margaret, Harcourt, Brace & Co., Philadelphia.

THE DETECTIVE
By Georgia L. Davis, Sacramento, Calif.

THE PROFESSIONAL SHOPPER
By Ruth Leigh, New York City.

THE PROOF READER
By Alice E. Rans, Riverside Press.

THE MOTION-PICTURE DIRECTOR
By Ida Montague, Motion Picture Director, Willis & Engles, Los Angeles.

THE DRAMATIC CRITIC
By Katherine Lynn, Drama Critic, Boston Traveler.

THE FRATRUE EDITOR
By John C. Gray, Philadelphia North Americans.

THE REPORTER
By Katherine Bartlett, Reporter on Motion Picture News.

THE SPECIAL-ARTICLE WRITER
By Frances J. Cowles, Boston Herald.

THE STYLE EXPERT
By Charlotte C. Stearns, Jordan Marsh Company, Boston.

WOMEN IN RAILROAD SERVICE
By Mabel D. Anthony, Manager of Women's Service Station, United States Railroad Administration.

THE PLAYWRIGHT
By Hazel M. Kingsley, Director of Bureau of Pageantry and the Drama, Y. W. C. A., New York City.

THE PRACTITIONER

THE PROFESSIONAL STORY TELLER
By Anna W. Chandler, Metropolitan Art Museum, New York City.

THE ELEMENTARY-SCHOOL TEACHER
By Lula M. Bowers, Southern California Branch, University of California, Los Angeles.

THE KINDERGARTNER
By Gertrude L. Gourley.

THE TEACHER OF THE BLIND
By Eleanor E. Kelley, Perkins Institute for the Blind.

THE HIGH-SCHOOL PRINCIPAL
By Ethel A. Pfund, Principal Lincoln High School, Los Angeles.

THE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT
By Mary E. Matthews, Superintendent, Boston Public Schools.

WOMEN IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE
By Mary N. Winslow, Industrial Agent, Women's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor.

THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY
By Ethel A. Smith, Executive Secretary, Women's City Club, Cleveland.

THE PUBLIC STENOGRAPHER
By Jessie M. Shennan.

SHORTHAND REPORTER
By Nellie Wood Freeman for several years holder of the international record for speed and accuracy.

THE PATHER GIRL LEADER
By Reva Wright, New York.

GRU-SCOUNT LEADERS
By Esther Eaten, National Headquarters of Girl Scouts.

WORKING COURT WORKER
By Augusta F. Bronner, Ph. D., President, New England School of Domestic Science.

THE BOND SALESWOMAN

THE CHILD-HYGIENE WORKER
By M. Josephine Bake, M. D., B. P. H., Director Bureau of Child Hygiene, Department of Health, New York City.

THE DISTRICT NURSE
By Mary Borum, R. N., Instructive District Nursing Association, Boston.

THE OPTOMETRIST
By Mary E. Sweetland, Lynn, Mass.

THE OSTEOPATH
By Edith S. Davis, Doctor of Osteopathy, Boston.

THE PRIVATE PRACTITIONER
By Elizabeth A. Riley, M. D.

THE WOMAN DENTIST
By Annie S. Wiburn, M. D.

THE WOMAN SURGEON
By Dr. Ellen C. Patten, Harrisburg, Pa.

CANNING AND PRESERVING OF HOME PRODUCTS
By Melissa Crawley, Landowner, Pa.

THE DIRECTOR OF A CLOTHING CENTER
By Ada F. Blanchard, Director of Clothing Information Bureau, Boston.

PRESERVATION WORK IN HOME ECONOMICS
By Ada A. Kibon, New York State College of Agriculture.

THE RESTAURANT MANAGER
By Mary E. Keech, President, Women's Club, New York City.

THE DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION IN PRIVATE SCHOOLS
By Helen Chaplin, Director of Physical Education, Harford Academy, Bradford, Mass.

POLITICS, A PROFESSION FOR WOMEN
By May Garrett, New York.

THE Y. W. C. A. WORKER
By Annabel H. Hawes, Secretary, Harvard University, New York City.

THE ARMS COURT WORKER
By Elizabeth B. Hersey, Assistant Registrar, College of Pharmacy, Columbia University.

THE TEA-ROOM MANAGER

THE TEXTILE FIELD AS A CAREER FOR WOMEN
By Mary Schentzel Woolman.

THE VISITING HOUSEKEEPER
By Florence A. Window, Secretary, Committee on Home Economies, New York Charity Organization Society, Lecturer in Domestic Arts, Teachers College, Columbia University.

THE HOSTESS IN AN INSTITUTION FOR GIRLS
By Mrs. Mary Snow, New York.

THE LIFE-INSURANCE AGENT
By Corinne E. Lemons, Manager Women's Department, The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston.

THE CORPORATION LAWYER
By Helen Talbot, New York.

THE MARRIAGE
By Jean B. Norris, Lv. B., Lv. M., City Magistrate, New York City.

THE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY
By Florence E. Allen, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, Cuyahoga County, Ohio.

THE EMBROIDERER
By June Richardson Donnelly, Vice President, American Library Association.

THE BOOK-REVIEWER
By Emily P. Biss, New York State College of Agriculture.

THE DIRECTRESS OF A HOME ECONOMICS SCHOOL
By Ada A. Kibon, New York State College of Agriculture.

THE PUBLICIST
By Ethel A. Smith, Assistant Director, Women's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor.

ORDER FORM
For the enclosed $4.00 please send a copy of CAREERS FOR WOMEN to Name .................................................................

Address ..........................................................

CAREERS FOR WOMEN is an attractive cloth-bound volume of 600 pages, price $4.00. To order a copy, sign and mail this order form to your bookseller, or to the publisher.

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN COMPANY
4 Park Street, Boston 8